

Best Ever Baby Organic Skin Care

Many companies use the label “natural” and “hypoallergenic” but beware!!! These terms are not regulated by the FDA and a product or food label with the claim of natural can mean most anything. Truth-in-marketing rules for food don’t apply in the cosmetics world.

With industry-leading formulas made from 70% or more organic ingredients, Dandle•LION skin care products – Bubbly Wash, Diaper Balm, Silky Cream and Nurturing Oil – are safe and healthy for all babies. They are clinically tested and proven gentle enough for even the most sensitive developing skin. The ingredients are free of dyes, parabens, phthalates, paraffin, silicone, lanolin and irritating essential oils (all the bad stuff!) and each ingredient was chosen for its benefits to the skin.

Cleanse – Nourish – Defend Organically!

Skin is the largest organ of the human body and plays a role in protection against water loss, absorption of noxious substances and intrusion from micro-organisms. The skin of all newborns, and especially preterm infants, is thinner and has fewer protective layers,^{1,2} making it more susceptible to infection and irritation.¹ Using products made with healthy and organic ingredients is important because the skin can absorb much of what it comes into contact with very quickly. When the skin is thin or injured, absorption is increased making babies especially vulnerable.^{1,2}

Only the Best for the Babies in Your Care

Healthcare professionals have the opportunity to model healthy and safe product choices. Dandle•LION organic skin care products are free from all toxins, proteins, artificial ingredients, chemicals or pesticides. All products are clinically tested, non-allergenic and top rated by the Environmental Working Group for safety. Give the babies in your care, especially preemies, the best start possible! And don’t forget the Moms!
